

Active safety

Applus IDIADA embraces a unique set of resources, tools and know-how to help achieve a high level of active safety standards in all the vehicle projects in which we cooperate.

Our expertise together with participation in numerous international projects and organizations, permits us to have access to information on the most demanding protocols and market requirements. Active safety activities include:

- Vehicle dynamics performance
- Brake system development
- Electronic chassis control systems
- ADAS systems